

MINISTER DIALOGUE SESSIONS

As a manifestation of the Singapore Manufacturing Federation's (SMF) ethos of collaboration, the SMF organises closed-door ministerial dialogue sessions regularly throughout the year and invites our members to attend and participate in the sessions to better understand Government policies, economic strategy and direction.

In 2018, the SMF held four dialogue sessions pertaining to four different areas that are highly relevant to the Singapore manufacturing community. These dialogue sessions provided invaluable insights to our members in relation to the reskilling of the workforce, matters on employment, education and trade. For these dialogue sessions, the SMF was honoured to have Minister Chan

Chun Sing (then Minister in Prime Minister's Office and Secretary-General of the National Trades Union Congress (NTUC)), Mrs Josephine Teo (then Minister in Prime Minister's Office, current Minister for Manpower, and Second Minister for Home Affairs), Minister Ong Ye Kung (Minister for Education) and Dr Koh Poh Koon (Senior Minister of State, Ministry of Trade and Industry) graced the dialogue sessions at the SMF Building where they participated in lively dialogue exchanges with a 200-strong crowd.

There will be more of such dialogue sessions in 2019. For more information on these dialogue sessions, please contact the SMF at contact@smfederation.org.sg.
